SUE SARKESIAN - BIO

Sue Sarkesian, co-founder of The Resume Group brings over fifteen years of experience guiding and coaching individuals through the search process. Sue provides expertise in career and transition consultation, and provides a holistic approach to the entire search process. She helps job seekers to leverage their unique strengths to differentiate themselves in the job market. Working with Sue, candidates learn ways to focus their job search, develop comprehensive search strategies, and execute a targeted plan for a successful job search.

Sue holds a Master's degree with an added concentration in Career and Transition counseling. Prior to forming The Resume Group, Sue served as Vice President of Sales & Marketing for one of the largest resume writing and distribution firms in the country. Her educational background, comprehensive industry experience, and dead-on market instincts make Sue the go-to expert on the topics of career development, career transition, search strategy, personal branding and self-marketing.
